Hon. Duncan Marshall Gives Cheerful Address

One of the most interesting and logical addresses ever heard in Wetaskiwin was given at the Board of Trade luncheon at the Grand Hotel on Tuesday evening, by the Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta. Mr. Marshall prefaced his remarks by stating how pleased he was to renew the acquaintance of his many Wetaskiwin friends, and he paid a tribute to A. S. Rosenzweig for his work as the representative in the legislature. Mr. Marshall's address referred particularly to the wheat trade and its relation to agriculture. There was no question but that the fall in prices of wheat had been a great disaster to Canada. Wheat has also been the first cash crop the farmer drew, and it soon paid the price of the land. Mr. Marshall argued that agricultural education is obtained from actual experience on the land, where man can work out his own ideas in a very interesting and satisfactory manner. All this talk of farming being a losing proposition was nothing but common sense. Agriculture was not a defunct industry by any means. He said he was not going around the country offering advice to farmers, but in his own lifetime, he had passed through three distinct periods of depression, and the experience gained through these hardships would stand us in good stead at this time. Last fall he spent a couple of months in the three prairie provinces, where he visited the individual farmers in their homes and obtained first-hand information, as to how they had made a success of the business of farming. He had discussed these questions from every angle, and had amassed a large amount of reliable data, which had been summarized, and published in book form, under the title, "Farm Management," and these books were now ready for distribution without charge among the farmers and others interested. This book was the third of a series, he had published on behalf of the Imperial Oil Company, and they all dealt with farming problems.

Mr. Marshall was confident that the main trouble today was over-expansion and the assuming by farmers of heavy financial obligations which had become a burden to many as a result of the economic depression. He strongly urged his hearers to keep out of debt, as nothing on earth gives a man such a happy feeling of independence as the knowledge that he does not owe anyone a cent. Mr. Marshall referred very touchingly to his father's experience in Bruce County, Ontario, where he built a one-room log cabin, where the speaker was born. For some years his father cleared about ten acres annually of land covered with hardwood bush, some trees being three or four feet in diameter. His father did not go into debt to the extent of one cent. It was that indomitable spirit coupled with the fear of debt that brought the early settlers of Ontario through their troubles and it will be that same stern spirit of self-reliance and self-restraint that will bring the prairie provinces back to prosperity.

It has been suggested that the government aid the grain growers by pegging the prices of wheat, but in his opinion, it would be impossible to fix the price of any farm commodity which was sold on the world market. If there was a set price for wheat, everybody would grow wheat. If the price of wheat was pegged, the government would also be compelled to have a fixed price for barley, oats, hogs and other products. One half the wheat of the world was raised on the central plains of Europe. Crop conditions in Europe have been favorable for the past two years, but one dry year would make it necessary for these countries to become large importers. Russia was a factor in the world wheat market at the present time, but it was not by any means as serious as the alarmists would have us believe. During the past year, Russia has sold only forty million bushels of wheat on the British market, which would not have been a serious matter if it had not been for the carryover of two hundred million bushels of Canadian wheat. In pre-war years, 40 per cent of Russia's exports was grain, while in 1928 the grain exported by Russia amounted to only 1 per cent. Russian farms are being worked not only under extreme pressure of the five-year plan, but this wheat is costing Russia $70 a bushel to produce. The expensive machinery used in Russia depreciated 50 per cent in one year, whereas the life of these machines is about ten years. The Soviet government promised to double the number of cattle in Russia in two years, but a stock man knows that this cannot be done in less than five years with fair success. Milk could not be sold for less than 16c a quart for children. The fact is that the Russian government are bluffing the people as there is less cattle, hogs and sheep in that country than there were two years ago. Their farming methods were inefficient, and their production costs much higher than Canadian costs. Mr. Marshall stressed the great importance of raising stock of the highest quality and there was no business under the sun that gave a man greater satisfaction than farming and stock raising. He could make a living on the land, whereas the mechanic who was earning his $10 a day and thought he had a life job, is now out of employment with his house only partly paid for and with his taxes and mortgages to meet. Stock on a farm improved the land and the yield of grain, thus reducing the production costs. The prosperity of the country was bound up with that of the farmer, and the prices of other commodities must be reduced in order that the farmer may carry on. He was proud of the fact that he was instrumental in having some schools of agriculture built in Alberta. The education derived in these institutions impels the boy to be the best farmer in the community and if the farm boy gets the proper inspiration and the correct viewpoint on life, there will be no question about the future of Canada.

Mr. Marshall, who was one of the judges of cattle at the stock fair in Calgary last week, is accompanied on his tour throughout the west by Mr. Prendergast of the Imperial Oil Company. Each guest at the luncheon on Tuesday evening was presented with a copy of Mr. Marshall's book, "Farm Management." This is a book let of about two hundred and fifty pages, illustrated by many very interesting farm scenes, and is full of very valuable information, which every farmer in the west should have. Copies of these books may be procured by writing to the office of the Imperial Oil Company, Edmonton, or Calgary.

President V. E. Thompson, who presided, announced that the directors of the Board were considering the matter of holding a school fair in Wetaskiwin this year, and a committee was now working on the proposal. Stewart Campbell rendered a solo song, and the speakers were heartily applauded. Mrs. McFarlane was the pianist.

FEDERAL REVIEW SHOWS CANADIAN OUTLOOK BETTER

Ottawa, April 4.—The fact that three important representative factors in Canada's economic life show improvement suggests a turning point in economic conditions during the first quarter of 1931, stated the monthly review of business statistics, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Common stocks, after reaching a low point in December, showed substantial gains in the first two months of the year. Index of industrial production, after taking the three months average for smoothing purposes, reached a new low in January, but important gains in some lines during February hold out hopes of moderate recovery in the near future. Long term interest rates as denoted in January by a yield of 4.55 per cent on Ontario bonds, were computed as 1.57 times the standard deviation above the line of computed normal.

Weighted index of the physical volume of business in Canada in February was reported at 138.9, which compared favorably with that of 1927, the year immediately preceding the recent prosperity years, when the index figure stood at 140.0. Grain marketing and livestock marketing showed favorable monthly increases and a substantial increase over February of last year.

C. W. TAYLOR OPENS CHEESE FACTORY AT THORSBY

A cheese factory is to be opened in the progressive village of Thorsby on Monday next, by C. W. Taylor of Wetaskiwin. The building has been erected, and the machinery, which is all new, and of the latest model, is being installed this week. There are two vats, of six thousand pounds capacity, and the plant will be capable of turning out about twelve hundred pounds of cheese daily. Mr. Taylor informs The Times that the present plant is only temporary and he anticipates that the industry will develop so rapidly that he will soon be forced to add to the equipment. The factory will supply the farmers in the district with a ready market for their cheese, and the establishment of a cheese factory at Thorsby will supply the farmers in that community with ready money, regardless of what the grain prices may be. Mr. Taylor expects very shortly to be in a position to handle eggs and poultry as well. Mr. Taylor's many friends in this community wish him every success in his new venture.

Old Timers' Re-Union and Dance Enjoyable Affair

The commodious Elks' hall was packed to capacity on Monday evening, when the Old Timers of this community assembled for their annual re-union and dance. It was a happy gathering indeed, as many present had not seen their old time friends since the last "At Home" and the renewing of acquaintanceship was one of the very pleasing features of the occasion. The program included the old time dances, interspersed with a few modern steps. The music was supplied by the Old Timers' Orchestra of Edmonton, and J. A. McCool of Edmonton was the announcer and manager of the dance.

The keenest interest was taken in the old time dances for the prizes, and the judges, namely, Jas. Sutherland, W. R. ## APPENDICITIS IN CHILDREN

Appendicitis, or inflammation of the appendix, is a comparatively common disease. It is not generally known that appendicitis is a serious and not infrequently fatal condition, not is it understood that the disease may and does occur among children.

Evidence of both these statements is shown by the fact that 1300 or more deaths occur each year in Canada from this disease, and of this number, over one-third were those of children under fifteen years of age.

There are certain diseases, such as typhoid fever, which may be prevented by sanitary measures taken to safeguard water, milk and food supplies. Other diseases, such as small-pox and diphtheria, are prevented by raising the individual's resistance to the disease by means of vaccination and immunization.

In certain diseases, of which appendicitis is a striking example, serious and fatal results can only be prevented by securing the right treatment and applying it early.

Proper early treatment has a great deal to offer, but it is, of course, without value unless it is applied. The physician cannot help those who do not come to him for his advice.

Unfortunately, the price of delay is frequently death. Delay in securing treatment, which allows the condition to progress until the appendix ruptures, very often means the death of a child, despite of all efforts made to save him.

When appendicitis occurs, there is pain and usually nausea and vomiting. Older children describe the pain as "cramp-like," and generally they feel it in the centre of the abdomen. Younger children cry as if in pain, and they seem not to feel the discomfort in any particular spot or part of the abdomen.

Unfortunately many parents and others who are responsible for the care of children believe that there is one right and proper way to treat a pain in the stomach, and that is by giving a dose of castor oil or some other purgative. When a part is inflamed, nature puts that part at rest. The purgative sets the digestive tract in motion just at a time when it should be at rest. A pain in the abdomen should not be treated with purgatives.

To the parent, it may seem that we are exaggerating the possible dangers of pain in the abdomen. Certainly every stomach-ache is not appendicitis. However, unless abdominal pain is always regarded as being serious, cases of appendicitis will go untreated and we, in Canada, will continue to record each year, among children, about five hundred deaths from appendicitis, practically all of which may be traced to procrastination and the use of purgatives in the presence of abdominal pain.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 124, College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

OVER SIX MILLION UNEMPLOYED IN UNITED STATES

The value of the figures revealed by the new census of the unemployed is the bare presentation of the picture at its worst. More than six million men, out of work, reflect an unprecedented condition in this country, alarming, in its significance, the sooner its significance is realized the better it will be.

There is some comfort, of course, in the knowledge that the statistics apply to unemployment at its peak, reached last January after the ebb of the Christmas tide of business, which always brings about a seasonal slump and which this year was made more acute by a depression confined to no one country, extending throughout the civilized world. Since the enumerators completed their count—business has begun the upward curve. There are signs of recovery everywhere and men believe that the lowest depths of the valley are behind. A like census, taken today, would obviously reduce the figures. Winter has passed and spring has come.

But balm of this sort means nothing if it is applied as a mere healing lotion. The knowledge that the worst is over is scant comfort if it means that the climb to another peak must be followed by a descent even more rapid, and to lower levels than the last. The chief problem before the nation today is to fill up the swamps and morasses of depression in advance and to prevent the repetition of such figures as those just revealed.

It is a task that should call for the most intelligent and able leadership the country can supply. It has already become the chief theme of discussion, and there are favorable signs, such as the enactment of the Wagner legislation, the progress of public works projects, the study of such partial remedies as unemployment insurance, that the problem has already left the category of mysterious phenomena and has assumed the tangible proportions of a question that can be sensibly answered. There is no doubt that a practical solution exists and eventually will be found. The danger is that rapid recovery from the late depression will lessen the demand for it. The system abhors medicinal remedies when it is sound and healthy.

The department of commerce figures show a tremendous increase of 149 per cent over the unemployment statistics first announced by the census bureau for April of last year. The increase is explained by the monthly change of figures, which mounted rather steadily until January of this year. While the count this last year, confined to nineteen cities, the department of commerce estimated the increase for the country as a whole by applying to its previous totals the percentages of increase actually noted in each of these nineteen cities. There is thus avoided the danger that might have resulted from any tendency to understate the situation. As the unemployed population has drifted to the big cities, surrounding which are the industrial establishments most seriously affected by the slump, the latest figures undoubtedly represent the condition accurately. — Washington Star.

Try Magnesia for Stomach Trouble

To Neutralize Acidity and Fermentation. Prevents Indigestion, Sour Gassy Stomach.

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried poppin, charcoal, soda and various digestive aids and get little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that. But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Bismarated Magnesia—the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bismarated Magnesia which you can obtain from any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference it makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.

134 PIGS PROGENY OF 1 SOW 3 YEARS

A Yorkshire sow belonging to Sam Pearce, residing near Meeting Creek, has given birth to 134 pigs in the past 35 months, an average of almost 45 little pigs per year. Peterson Bros., general merchants at Meeting Creek, express the opinion that without doubt this is a record for the west if not all Canada and the United States. For skeptics, sworn statement can be produced, they add.

The record is: May 3, 1923, 11 pigs; October 10, 1923, 15 pigs; March 18, 1923, 23 pigs; September 20, 1923, 18 pigs; March 18, 1924, 24 pigs; October 20, 1924, 21 pigs; April 1, 1925, 22 pigs; total 134.

In Ontario they are spending 49 millions annually on education. This is a huge sum. It is almost as much as they are spending on liquor.

STOCKMEN WELL SATISFIED WITH SALE RESULTS

With 570 animals disposed of at the very satisfactory average price of $172.65, the Calgary annual spring bull sale held by the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association closed on Friday afternoon. While prices for all three breeds represented were slightly lower than last year's figures, entries were more numerous and generally higher in quality, and officials of the association expressed themselves as well pleased with the success of the sale.

Bidding was kept throughout the level and well finished year total animals found a ready demand, most of them going to ranch and farm herds in the central and southern sections of the province, where, according to all indications at the sale, there is still a good deal of confidence in the future of the livestock industry.

Here and There

TUNE IN FRIDAY NIGHT ON "CANADA ON PARADE"

Ottawa Weekly Letter

(By W. Irvine, M.P. for Wetaskiwin)

Parliament will close tomorrow until April 13th, which is the period of the Easter holiday. The debate on the address will almost certainly go over until after the recess. The Government brought down Supplementary Estimates on Monday dealing with expenditures authorized last year but which had exceeded the estimates passed at the last Session of Parliament. A two million dollar vote in connection with the Welland Canal held up proceedings all day and all night until about 10:30. The discussion centered on the charges of the Leader of the Opposition that the Government's manner of dealing with this particular vote was unconstitutional, and said that apparently the Government had left it to a contractor to decide as to whether or not further work should be done, and that to do so and expect Parliament later to authorize the necessary funds was not in accordance with the usual practice. The Prime Minister's explanation was that the vote under discussion was for work on a contract authorized by the Liberal administration. According to the terms of the contract so much money was voted by Parliament each year; when the amount voted had been expended the Government notified the company, and the company was then at liberty either to cease work and wait for the next year's vote or to continue, taking the risk that Parliament would pass the amount required, and he argued that any company was reasonably safe in so doing in that the contract implied that the work had to be finished and it was only a matter of whether the work had to be done this year or the year following. There were two conditions, the Prime Minister said, which induced the Government to suggest to the company doing more work this year than was authorized by the last Session. The first condition was that it was an exceptionally good winter in that the freeze-up did not come until very late, thus making such work as was to be done in the Welland Canal possible, and second, that in view of the extraordinary condition of unemployment the Government thought it was good business to permit the company to carry forward the work, expending its own money without interest, and contended that there should be no objection to this course, particularly by the Liberals, who had taken similar action on numerous occasions, and Mr. Bennett quoted several instances.

This discussion, as stated, occupied most of the day and evening. The sum and substance of the whole thing, as anyone will see, was merely red-tape technicality which amounted to nothing, but it was regarded by the Opposition as sufficient reason for wasting an entire day of Parliament.

The Government fully expected to pass its estimates quickly and proceed to the discussion of the Speech from the Throne, but on the Orders of the Day Mr. Heaps, Labour Member from Winnipeg, threw another monkey wrench into the machinery which rattled through the Parliamentary machine all day and up to the moment of writing.

The Labour Member moved that the House be adjourned to consider a matter of urgent public importance which was that distress from unemployment was very prevalent throughout Canada and that, as the relief granted by the Government at the special session of Parliament terminated on this day, it was essential that the Government should give some assurance to the country as to what was to be done with the unemployed. The Speaker promptly ruled the motion out of order, on the ground that it was anticipating a motion already on the Order Paper, whereupon when the Prime Minister moved to go into Supply, Mr. Heaps rose to discuss his question on that motion; a procedure which the Speaker found it impossible to deny.

Mr. Heaps argued that unemployment was worse at the present moment than when the special session of Parliament was called to deal with it. He and Mr. Woodworth both described in unmistakable language harrowing conditions. Mr. Woodworth declaring that if something were not done immediately he would not be surprised if riot should be rife in Canada before Parliament re-assembled. The Government appeared to be displeased that the subject should have been brought up before the supplementary estimates had been passed, and while it is true that the motion of the Labour Members did come at a very unfortunate moment, still the matter of unemployment is of such urgency that they can be excused for the action they took. Neither of the Labour speakers had any suggestion as to what should be done immediately so far as relief was concerned, but both Mr. Heaps and Mr. Woodworth very ably presented the cause of the unemployed; analyzed the economic conditions which accounted for their plight, and urged that some action, preferably a change of economic system, be taken.

Strange to say, just before Mr. Heaps had presented the case of the unemployed, Mr. Carmichael of Kindersley, Saskatchewan, had asked a question on the Orders of the Day if the Government intended to bonus the wheat growers, and quoted numerous wires to the effect which he had received from local organizations in his riding. One of the U. F. A. Members made a suggestion in connection with both agriculture and unemployment, while requiring a good deal of courage on the part of the Government to do it, appears to have a good deal of common sense to recommend it.

The proposal was that the Government purchase a million bushels of wheat from the Western farmers at a reasonable price, also to purchase other farm products such as butter, eggs, vegetables and meat, and use these products to feed the unemployed, establishing centres in each city for the distribution of this food, and further, that the Government undertake a coast to coast highway as soon as possible, and other similar and necessary public works, using Treasury Notes as a means of finance. It was argued that a program of this nature would assist the unemployed, would assist the farmers by taking a million bushels of wheat off the market at a reasonable price, which would usually increase public services through the building of highways and so on, and if financed in the way recommended would not increase the national debt, for when the next cycle of prosperity comes, if it ever comes, the Government could tax back into the Treasury the Treasury Notes issued for these purposes.

POPULAR WETASKIWINITES CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING; RECEPTION IN CHURCH

On the occasion of the anniversary of their Easterday wedding, solemnized fifty years ago in the parish of Malsbury, Sweden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Berg, Lansdowne St., celebrated their golden wedding on Wednesday last. The immediate family and a few friends were entertained to dinner, covers being laid for sixteen. The table was centred with a vase of yellow roses and maidenhair fern, the gift of their only grandchild, Miss Helen Berg, of Edmonton.

In the evening the venerable couple and family were guests at a reception given in their honor in the Mission Church of this city, by the New Sweden, Malmö and Wetaskiwin congregations. The party were met at the door by two dainty little flower girls, the Misses June Bradenburg and Ruth Noyd, who ushered them to their places of honor on the platform, which was suitably decorated in gold and white. Graciously the little ushers presented their bevy of yellow roses and tendered the message that went with the flowers.

After a few introductory remarks by Rev. A. Wikstrom, a splendid program was rendered, an interesting feature of which were the short speeches, humorously reminiscent of the pioneer life around Wetaskiwin, of which every speaker was a veteran. They, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Berg had homesteaded here in the early nineties. Telegrams of congratulation were read from their abode, daughter, Mrs. Crawford, of San Francisco, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Moore of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Malmros and family of Huskvarna, Sweden, and many others.

Mr. S. A. Anderson in presenting the gift, a plate of gold coins, which was to serve as a memento of the day, spoke of the generous activities of the couple in the church and Mr. Berg's willing labors in helping to erect the little log church at New Sweden, and which stands as a monument to the integrity and Christian standards which has ever characterized their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Berg feelingly thanked their many friends for their expressions of good will and good wishes.

Mrs. Bradenburg, in the capacity of hostess, then invited the guests to the basement, where, at artistically decorated tables, the ladies of the church served a sumptuous repast. After a social hour the guests departed, leaving with the grateful bride and groom a multitude of good wishes, and voicing their intention of attending their diamond anniversary.

GRAVEL 200 MILES OF ROAD; SYLVAN LAKE GETS BENEFIT
Graveling of 200 miles of Alberta highways under the winter relief program has been practically completed, according to Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public work.

Operations were advanced rapidly with the advent of fine weather and now most of the major projects are in the finishing stages.

Work on the secondary highway system also was involved in this winter program. A large part of the employment went to residents of the respective districts. This is in line with the government's policy to give as much relief as possible to permanent residents of communities during the period when other work is slack.

One of the principal projects about finished is the stretch from Lacombe to Sylvan Lake, which is expected to be a boon to motorists who have long desired for a hard surfaced road to the pleasure resorts in that district.

Other winter-graveling projects which are drawing to the finished stages are roads from Cooking Lake to Tofted, Camrose to Dayland, Calgary to Drumheller, High River to Lethbridge, and Cardston to Lethbridge. With these various projects completed, Alberta will have close to 1,800 miles of standard gravel highways.

Supplies of gravel for winter work were excavated from quarries at Battle, Ponoka, Irricana, Aldersyde, and Macleod. Crushing was carried out at the quarry, after which the material was moved by train to the vicinity of the several spreading projects. In this way, a good top-dressing was given.

During the winter, graveling was the only form of relief road work carried out by the department of public works. It had the double advantage, however, of providing unemployment relief and at the same time being a permanent improvement to the highways.—Journal.

ONE PRESCRIPTION MADE FAMILY DOCTOR FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than the work of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headache, gas, nausea, bloatedness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

Red Deer Fish & Game association secured second prize in the province. ### CANCER KILLING SERUM IS FOUND BY LONDON DOCTOR

New York, April 4.—Cancer tissue growing artificially in glass dishes is killed in a few minutes by a new serum developed in the cancer research laboratory of London hospital, England. Unlike other tumor remedies, this serum is harmless to living tissues except cancer.

These discoveries and their possibilities for experimenting with cancer in man are revealed in the April issue of the American Journal of Cancer by Thomas Lumsden, M.D., director of the London laboratory.

The serum comes from animals which have been inoculated with cancer. It is tested upon cells of cancer, of heart, kidney and other body tissues growing artificially outside of living beings. A start has been made in testing it upon living animals, a few rats having been cured of cancer, and others rendered immune.

Dr. Lumsden reports: "Perhaps the most specifically anti-malignant serum that has been tested is the anti-serum obtained from a sheep which has been repeatedly inoculated with human mammary cancer and human breast tissue. When this anti-serum is applied to mouse cancer in a glass dish, it kills the cancer cell—they are dead within five minutes."

RED DEER GIRLS DEFEAT PONOKA FOR HOOP TITLE

Ponoka, April 6.—On Thursday evening, April 2, the Ponoka high school girls' basketball team defeated the Red Deer team by a score of 18 to 16 in the last of the home and home games for the Central Alberta high school championship.

The game was fast and furious. Ponoka, battling to make up the twelve-point lead which Red Deer had gained in the first game. At the end of the first period it looked like the home girls would win their objective as the score was tied to two in favor of Ponoka, leaving them only four points behind.

The second period ended in a score of four to three in favor of Red Deer, and the third period five to four in favor of Red Deer, leaving Ponoka six points behind.

The fourth period was keenly contested by both teams. Red Deer played a check game and the home girls being over-anxious to tie the score, resulted in a number of personal fouls on players from both teams. Here the visitors had a great advantage as their players missed but one shot while Ponoka girls, being better at long shots at the hoop, made only one basket, resulting in a score this period of five to one in favor of Red Deer, giving them the championship by a total from the two games of 30 to 20.

WINNIPEG WIN COVETED ALLAN CUP IN STRAIGHT GAMES

Winnipeg, April 3.—Emblem of national amateur hockey supremacy, the Allan cup, came back to the west tonight. The red-shirted men of Winnipeg won the Canadian title by defeating Hamilton Tigers 2 to 1 for the second successive victory in the east-west combat. Winnipeg won the first game of the series 2 to 1.

Winnipeg's triumph in senior hockey gives the Manitoba capital a "grand slam" in amateur competition. Just a week ago, the Memorial cup and the Canadian junior championship were won by Winnipeg by the tolling Elmwood Millionaires. The Allan cup victory, too, names the Winnipeg seniors as Canada's hockey elite in the 1932 Olympic games at Lake Placid.

It was the first time in hockey history that the cup has been won in two straight games.

FOOTBALLERS READY

The Brightview football team have erected the goalposts on the new field at the Fair Grounds, and a practice game will be played April 12th, at 3 p.m. All players are requested to turn out, and any new players wishing a tryout should attend this practice. A game will be played between Ponoka and Brightview in the near future at Wetaskiwin, and the boys would like to see some support from the home town.

COMMUNICATION

[We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.]

The Editor of The Times: Dear Sir:

After perusing carefully the reports of the legislation passed by the Alberta legislature recently adjourned, and after waiting patiently in the hope that the Government of Alberta (of which the farmers of this province have labored so diligently since 1910) to keep in office I state very frankly that I have become disappointed and discouraged, and this is expressing myself in a very mild way, in that the U.F.A. Government has failed in its leadership to relieve the burdens of the farmers and the unorganized labor in these times of depressing conditions.

view, with considerable regret that our Premier Brownlee and the U.F.A. Government failed to take advantage of the opportunity to set an example by other provinces, and the Dominion of Canada as well, by making a reduction in their salaries and by taking definite steps to assist those in Alberta who are suffering as a result of the depressing economic conditions.

I hope the Prime Minister of this Dominion, the Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, will take the lead and show to the people of this country that he is a man of his word, and that he is attempting to carry out his pre-election promises by improving the conditions of the farmers of Western Canada and unorganized labor as well.

I further frankly state that I am in accord with many statements made by the members for Wetaskiwin, H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., and with the stand he took on many of the questions in the legislature, which were under consideration at the last session, but I am of the opinion that if Mr. Montgomery had been sincere, he would have stood up in the legislature and stated his willingness to accept a 20% reduction in his salary.

To the Editor of The Times: OLD TIMERS' ANNUAL DANCE

I cannot refrain from expressing a few thoughts on the second happy get-together supper-dance under the auspices of the Wetaskiwin Branch of the Old-Timers' Association in the Elks' Hall on Monday evening.

Of course it was a success for the right spirit permeates the 450 people who gather to renew old acquaintanceships which began when the West was raw and young.

These pioneers, and their traits have been transmitted to their sons and daughters, are cheerful because they are courageous. They are optimistic because they have surmounted, in the past, difficulties which to others might have seemed insurmountable. This is the reason that the dance on Monday night was a jolly affair.

The reason that Bill Wynn who chased a bunch of cattle from Winnipeg to Edmonton 45 years ago could come down from Edmonton and dance like a 17 year old flapper for hours on end, and the same reason which permits the youthful Frank Lucas to dance the feet off his many lady friends. It is also the reason that Lou Hanna, Tom Torsen and other young fellows are tireless in their efforts in making perfect arrangements for a real old-fashioned honest-to-goodness good time, for young and old, old-timers.

And say, it was a treat to see the grace of the old heel and toe polka as performed by the old young ladies and gentlemen. In that dance there was a joyful dignity with which more modern dances are not endowed.

The affair now seems permanently established and will doubtless be carried on for generations by the descendants of the pioneers who have established the function in Wetaskiwin. It will be an annual event of increasing importance as the years go by, for it will become the symbol of traditions that the country, nor its people, can afford to forget.

The whole proceedings were typical of a genuine good-fellowship that was born in a simpler social atmosphere than we know today, before the time when Mrs. Two-Bits slighted Mrs. Dime.

After a most enjoyable evening, guests from far and near were speeded on the way in the early hours of the morning filled with good cheer from renewals of old acquaintances and good food plentifully and charmingly served by the ladies.

J. H. HODSON.

WESTERN MEMBERS LAUD GOVERNMENT WHEAT POLICY

Ottawa, April 2.—Western members hall with a high satisfaction the two actions of the government which were officially announced Wednesday bearing upon different aspects of grain marketing—the London conference on "orderly" marketing and the inquiry into the effects of dealing in grain "futures."

Of the two, the conference is considered, perhaps, the more important at least in an immediate sense. There are high hopes for an agreement for that "orderly" marketing by the exporting countries, primarily designed to obviate those glut in the market which inevitably react upon prices in the most depressing way.

If there can be an agreement that the world's wheat requirements can be met, gradually, in conformity with the actual need, rather than having huge quantities of competitive wheat dumped on the market for what it will bring, then the effect produced will be that of stability and the maintenance of price levels. Those crashes in quotations which have caused so much loss and demoralization in the past would be avoided.

As considered here, the advantages of orderly marketing to every exporting country, are so obvious that it is difficult to entertain any idea of disagreement and more so because the Rome conference has authorized the London gathering to tackle the problem "with a free hand."

The facts that the conference idea was initiated by Canada, that it is to be held in Canada House and that it is to be held in Canada House and that it is to be held in Canada House and that it is to be held in Canada House and that it is to be held in Canada House and presided over by the Canadian high commissioner, place this dominion in the lead of all the exporting countries in initiating the move for proper marketing methods. If they succeed, it will be a big feather in the caps both of the prime minister and the new high commissioner.

AS A MAN THINKETH

"Youth is the unforgivable sin in a doctor and only time can cure it." Susan chuckled at her husband's cleverness, then she sighed as she snipped patiently at the sport suit she was trying to repair.

"I know it, darling; but I could just shake those stupid people who go right past your door to those old doctors who haven't half your training or skill."

"Well, we've a dandy little house, anyway, honey." Dr. Ballard put his arm around his wife and drove her to the window. "Look at that climbing rose. There isn't a lovelier spray of blossoms in this town, with all the beautiful gardens. Think what a good time we're having in this tiny garden, even if I'm not making any money yet."

They stood gazing over the garden with the pride of two people who have dreamed over each seed and bush. "Look, dear," Susan handed him a small black box that contained little smooth black balls.

"Betty sent me these from California. They're seeds from that beautiful flowering bean which grows all over the walls of her house."

Billie kissed her, then looked at the seeds and chuckled. "Jove, they look like some of my pills—"

The door bell rang at that instant. Susan peeked through the window, then said gleefully as she slipped out of the back door of the office:

"Oh, it's that Mrs. Mandeville. She's the queen bee in town, Billie. She lives in that big place on the next corner, you know. Good luck, darling!"

Mrs. Mandeville's face was drawn with pain. One of her dreadful headaches had seized her and she was giving a large party that night. Almost desperate, she had hurried to the young doctor. She did not tell him that her own physician was away, but Billie guessed it.

He was so interested, so kindly, that Mrs. Mandeville liked him at once. He gave her something to relieve her, then spent quite a little time suggesting certain changes of diet and exercise which he knew would help her.

As she left, already more comfortable, he handed her a small box. "And take two of these each day for a while. Please let me know how you feel, as I shall be interested." He gave her one of his warm, boyish smiles and aristocratic Mrs. Mandeville smiled back. She liked the handsome young doctor.

She called him two days later to tell him that his treatment had helped her tremendously. She was his loyal friend from that hour. Her sister came in the next week when she crushed a finger in a door, and other neighbors followed suit.

Susan, beaming with joy, said to Billie:

"And that nice Mrs. Mandeville started it all, do you remember? Your pills helped her headaches so much."

Dr. Ballard nodded, then opened a drawer of his desk. "Yes, and I must order more of those pills; I gave her the last box." Susan was staring at the drawer with wide eyes. "Pills," she gasped, "in that right-hand drawer?"

"Why, surely; what's wrong, dear?"

Her face went white, then flamed. "Oh, how terrible!" she wailed. "I cleaned your desk that day. I put all the pill boxes in the left-hand side. I forgot to tell you when Mrs. Mandeville came in suddenly. See, here are the pills." She opened the other drawer. There were the boxes in neat array.

"Well, then, what was in the other box that I gave her?" The young doctor's eyes were anxious.

"Did you ever hear of anything so awful?" Susan half-sobbed. "You must have given her those flowering bean seeds; they looked like pills. And—and we must have planted the pills—her voice failed her. The doctor stared back at his young wife for a long moment, then he threw back his head with a shout of laughter.

"It's too good," he finally gurgled, "the pills helped her headaches—and we wondered why the beans hadn't come up—" Susan laughed with him, laughed until the tears ran down her face. At last Dr. Ballard drew a long sigh, hugged Susan and looked at her with dancing eyes.

"No harm done, sweetheart," Dr. Ballard shook with laughter again. "The vegetable pills couldn't hurt any one and Mrs. Mandeville's headaches are cured."

Then his black eyes twinkled. He murmured:

"As a man thinketh in his heart"

WHY FAT MEN STAY FAT

"The trouble with me, and I guess this applies to 99 out of every 100 men who are putting on weight, I didn't have the energy or 'pep' to keep it off. Lost all interest in any healthy activity and just lapsed around accumulating the old pounds, until I got that 'Kruschen feeling.'"

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape, and fill you with vigor and tireless energy.

As a result, instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate, you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water to-morrow morning and every morning—be careful of the foods you eat—take regular moderate exercise—then watch the pounds slide off.

According to Osborne Scott, general passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways.

The party will spend a day at each of the western universities and one day at one of the universities in each of the eastern provinces. Miss Thompson is at present in the west completing arrangements for the trip.

The various types of schools for training girls in England will be represented by the headmistresses.

When you need printing in a hurry, when it simply must come through, when the job is mighty particular—let The Times do it for you!

GETTING OUT A PAPER

"Getting out a good newspaper, is a fascinating task, but also a difficult one," says the Linotype News, adding, "No other job that comes to mind is quite so taxing, so hurried, or demands greater pains. From the moment a newspaper is started, be it either a daily or weekly, the work is carried on under pressure, a race against time. Put yourself in an editor's position—could you do it?"

"Could you, for example, spell correctly offhand the names of a large percentage of the residents of the town? If you could do that, could you write their initials correctly without resorting to the telephone directory or other authority?"

"Could you write down, offhand, the names of your city officials, your local school board, your country officials, getting all the names, initials and office correct?"

"Could you gather the threads of a story from half a dozen persons and weave it into an intelligent, readable account the first writing?"

"Could you write seven columns of material of 1,200 or 1,400 words each in two or three days, week after week, year after year, and when you had finished those seven, pound out two or three more before press time?"

"In writing a heading, could you call to mind in a moment enough synonyms so that you would not repeat the same thought in the same words?"

"Could you judge in a minimum of time what size headlines and what positions in the paper could be given to each of the 75, 100 or more stories that might go into the paper?"

"Could you decide in a moment or exercise 'snap' judgment on the dozens of questions a newspaper man must face daily and get a majority of them correct?"

WATCH THESE DANGER SIGNALS!

HEADACHES, dizziness, coated tongue, loss of appetite, lack of energy, a general feeling of "blues"—these are the most frequent danger signals of constipation.

Look out for them. Don't let them make your life miserable. Start to-morrow eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. As pleasant as it is healthful. What a relief it will be after taking unnatural, habit-forming pills and drugs.

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, eat it three times daily.

Milk or cream brings out the delightful nut-like taste of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. And with milk or cream, important vitamins are furnished. ALL-BRAN is equally tempting with fruits or honey. Sprinkle it over other cereals.

Use it in cooking—for making delicious bran muffins, breads, in omelets, etc. ALL-BRAN also has iron, the builder of good, rich, red blood. At all grocers in the famous red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. The original All Bran.

Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

"We won't tire you—but if you could do these few simple things and a thousand and one more difficult ones, you should be a newspaper editor."

"The point we wish to make is that one can produce a good newspaper, only after continued diligent study and years of practical experience. You have heard dozens of people remark that they could turn out a newspaper and a good one, too, a bit better, in fact, than the one they are getting. That is not true unless they have gone through the years of study that a good newspaper demands of its makers."

"Were it not for the peculiar fascination associated with newspaper work there would be no newspaper, for there is no greater taskmaster and money alone would be far too scant compensation."

The Times does commercial printing at right prices.

TUXIS SQUARE ENJOY SOCIAL EVENING AND HIKE

The Vimy Tuxis Square spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Elliott on Thursday, April 2. Allstar Elliott, a Tuxite of repute, acted as host in a manner which was very acceptable. The meeting was opened at 7:30 with the Tuxite regular meeting first. During the business discussion a hike was suggested and accordingly set for Friday.

Willie Sharlow, who left this city on Monday, was given the best wishes for success in his coming venture by the group, he having left to work on his relative's farm near Montfort.

The evening was put in charge of the host, who gave the fellows a test on their knowledge of the towns surrounding Wetaskiwin. Honors in this contest went to Willie Sharlow and the mentor, Mr. R. C. Pethybridge, who tied. Willie was the recipient of a silk handkerchief, and the booby prize went to Fred Lord. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing crinkole, bagatelle and lost help. Refreshments were then served and the game of "What'll I bring to the farm" was played.

The enjoyable evening concluded after all had given their vote of appreciation to the host and Rev. and Mrs. Elliott.

On Friday the Tuxis left at 2 p.m. on a hike to Lucas Grove and from there to the dam and home. Five boys made the hike, the other five lagging behind took advantage of a car ride and went to Millet, returning home by the same mode of travel. Those who hiked were tired, footsore and happy, with new tales told and adventures to remember. Those who rode are still laughing over the fact that they went further than the hikers and arrived home sooner.

A.Y.P.A. GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

The A.Y.P.A. entertained their friends and members of the congregation on Tuesday evening.

A one-act play "Marrying off Father," directed by Lieut.-Col. Baker, was thoroughly enjoyed. Those taking part were Misses Norma Chidley, Nora Gibson, Alberta Gibson, and Messrs. Kels McMurdo and Robert Bickelstaff.

The president, Miss Marjorie Robinson, gave a most interesting talk on Chopin and "Folk and Songs," illustrated with instrumental numbers by David Appel and Eleanor Finch, and vocal numbers by Mrs. H. J. Montgomery, Miss Barker, Miss Heath, Mrs. Snyder, and Mr. Jacobs. Alta Warren rendered a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Heath, and Miss Norma Chidley gave a Russian Ballet dance.

The last number on the program was a short comedy "The Lost Hat," directed by Mr. Barnett, the taking part being Arthur McArthur, Robert Eshman, Ben Barnett, Roger Paton and Dan Wing.

The president and members of the A.Y.P.A. are very grateful to all those who helped with their program.

CORRECTION

An error appeared in the Ponteney-Nygard wedding published recently, when it was stated that the bride was attired in a gown of Alice blue silk. This should have read, violet blue silk trimmed with eury silk lace, and also that a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride by Mr. and Mrs. Nygard of Dulham.

The Wetaskiwin correspondent to The Western Catholic says: Rev. Fr. N. D. Dubois, O.M.I., of Delmas, Sask., who is visiting at the Hobbema Mission, was a welcome visitor at the parochial house on Wednesday. Many of the old timers will remember this good Father who was parish priest here for two years from 1900 to 1902; he was relieved by Fr. Van Wotton, O.P., was put in charge, who in turn has looked after this parish for the past quarter of a century.

Several farmers in the community are commencing to work their land this week, and if favorable weather conditions continue the spring operations will be general in a few days.

A fully stocked pine forest not only means a greater growth return upon the same investment in land and exert, but it assists itself in its own maintenance and propagation.

An all night search, organized by Lars Grue, on Monday, March 30, and joined in by neighbors from the immediate district resulted in the discovery early Tuesday forenoon of the body of Peder Olaf Hansen, aged 52, who had presumably gone to a neighbor's on Monday morning but had not been missed until four o'clock in the afternoon. The man's body was found at the edge of a dry gulch, surrounded by willow brush. Deceased had taken his life by hanging himself from a low branch of a willow tree, death being caused through strangulation.—Canadian.
